

Indigo Spoken

POETRY & SONG

"Indigo Spoken," Poetry & Song is a lyrical reading of original poems from "Indigo," "Blush," and "Onyx," poetry books by author Cyrene Renee. It also features the key songs that inspired the eclectic sections of the books. Allowing for intimate insight, by blending music and literature on one stage.

The purpose of the show is to allow the audience a behind the scenes peak of the thought process while Cyrene created her poetry books. She states in her introduction in "Indigo" that she does not write solely for herself, but also for the reader. Whether the listener is an avid reader or new to Cyrene's work, they will have the opportunity to be introduced to a bit more personal perspective of her creativity.

This show features only Black women artists/vocalists to include a classic from Ms. Nina Simone and currently Jill Scott and Erykah Badu. It pays an homage to the women who have come before her and who stand with her in the modern age of art and creativity. The show has the flexibility to be as short as 30 minutes or up to an hour and a half if needed. With the various unique arrangements composed by Cyrene herself from the timeless songs, she has managed to create something all her own, relative to her heart and understanding.

"Indigo Spoken" is different. It is eclectic and honest. Throughout the performance, Cyrene shares her moments of clarity and in some cases, resistance to her openness and vulnerability. It is more than a show. It is an accelerated pause in time to be shared. And with that, the courage of embracing the now, manifests with every song sung and every word spoken.
